WILL MANAGE THE CHICAGO AMERICANS

Baseball World Surprised When Clarence H. Rowland Was Named Manager of Club.

(By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—To the complete surprise of the baseball world, Clarence H. Rowland, last year pilot of a team in a class B circuit, today was named manager of the Chicago American league club. Many Chicago fans never had heard of Rowland, but in professional baseball circles he was well known as a successful manager of minor league clubs. Rowland left the ranks of players for his first manager's position at Aberdeen, Wash., in 1908. Thence he went to Jacksonville, Ill., and then returned to Dubuque Iowa where he was part owner and manager of the Dubuque Three-I league club. Last season he managed the Peoria team in the Three-I league taking it from last place to second. The new manager will assume his duties soon, succeeding James J. Callahan, who has led the Chicago Americans three seasons. Callahan will be appointed to some position connected with the business affairs of the club, it was announced. The disposition of "Kid" Gleason, coach and advisor to Callahan, was not announced but it was rumored he might be made manager of the New York Americans. Rowland is 33 years old. His contract is for one year at a salary that was not announced.

ELEGANT REPAST ENJOYED AFTER INSTALLATION OF NEW OFFICERS

APPOINTMENTS OF OFFICERS MADE

Burning Bush Chapter, R. A. M. and Hiram Lodge, A. F. M. Held Interesting Sessions.

A social event long to be remembered and cherished in local annals of Masonry was the elegant repast served last night following the installation of newly elected officers by Burning Bush chapter No. 7, Royal Arch Masons, and Hiram lodge No. 68, A. F. M.

A special communication of the chapter was held at 6:30 o'clock for the installing of officers and announcing of appointive officers, while a special communication of the Blue lodge was held at 7 o'clock for the same purpose. At 8 o'clock members of the two organizations, with several invited guests and their guests of honor, the members of Ruff lodge No. 240 and representatives of other lodges, repaired to the vacant store room on East Whitner street, adjacent to the establishment of G. F. Tolly & Son, where a bountiful turkey dinner was served.

An elegant supper. Two tables had been arranged along the sides of the hall and covers laid for perhaps 150 or 200 persons. After the guests had taken their places at the table grace was said by Rev. Dr. W. H. Frazer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. For the next half hour or so those present gave their undivided attention to large quantities of turkey, rice, gravy, celery, cranberry jelly, pickles, coffee, and other good things. When cigars had been lighted and chairs set back a bit from the table, Hon. T. Frank Watkins, worshipful master of Hiram lodge, who acted as toastmaster, called upon several brethren present for short speeches.

After-dinner speeches. C. Grady Cason, worshipful master of Ruff lodge, was the first called upon and in fitting language he expressed his individual pleasure and the pleasure of his lodgemen at meeting with the brethren of Hiram lodge and Burning Bush chapter, R. A. M. T. J. Martin, worshipful master of Williamson lodge No. 24, one of the oldest lodges in the State, was the second speaker called upon. Following him, John K. Hood, high priest of Burning Bush chapter, was called upon for a few words. In his well known and elegant style, characterized by beauty and simplicity of diction, Mr. Hood spoke briefly of some of the meanings of Masonry; the beauties that were unfolded in the higher branches of the craft, and the pleasure it would afford the chapter to receive the applications of members of the Blue lodges.

Orator of the Night. D. S. Gray, king of the chapter, spoke at length, to the keen disappointment of the expectant audience, who were keyed up for an oratorical flight of less pretentious dimensions. Seriously, though, this well known after-dinner speaker takes to heart the truth of the adage that "brevity is the soul of wit." And he reasoned that inasmuch as the audience had given its attention to turkey stuffed with sage, the time was inopportune for them to give their attention to a sage stuffed with turkey. He stood right up and made his bow and sat right down again, and really, to the disappointment of those who would have been his hearers.

A Real Treat. One of the treats of the evening were the remarks by Rev. Dr. Frazer, who delighted the audience with several well chosen anecdotes, and particularly one in negro dialect which illustrated some of the virtues of Masonry.

The reciting by Mr. D. H. Russell, one of the oldest Mosons in this section, of several personal experiences in which the benefits of Masonry were shown, was another pleasant feature of the evening.

A few remarks by Bond Anderson, the youngest Mason on the floor, and Leon L. Rice, closed the program for the evening.

The arrangements for the elegant repast and the serving of it were under the personal direction of Rev. Dr. Frazer, and in this respect he scored another success.

Appointive Officers. Appointive officers for Burning Bush chapter, Royal Arch Masons, were announced last night as follows: Captain of the host, W. F. Marshall; principal sojourner, Robert E. Ligon; royal arch captain, E. K. Chapman; third vailman, Raymond Beatty; second vailman, D. P. Skelton; first vailman, Harry McLesky; sentinel, J. F. McClellan.

Hiram Lodge Officers. Appointive officers for Hiram lodge were announced as follows: Senior deacon, W. F. Marshall; junior deacon, D. P. Skelton; stewards, Bond Anderson and W. D. McLean; tyler, J. T. McClellan.

him a position as coachman, which he accepts. Many and varied are Bob's experiences as "The Man on the Box" of the Annesley coach.

Becoming implicated in a plot to defraud the United States government of important patents, he thwarts the attempts of a Russian count and save important patents.

Betty, while visiting Bob's sister, who is a dear friend, learns from Bob's photograph who he is, but allows him to continue as coachman. Bob is entirely ignorant of Betty's knowledge of his identity.

Betty's father loses his money; then Bob discloses his identity and admits to his own right; however, Betty's and Bob's romance is one of pure love and after a series of intrigues, plots and counter-plots, all of which "The Man on the Box" follows, the couple are married and live happily ever after.
